Farmers in the Southwest are getting rich on the increasing value of their farms.

Not so very many years ago Illinois and Iowa land sold for ten dollars an acre. More recently Nebraska lands sold at that price. Look at them now; What makes them so high? The land is no better than it was then. What caused the price to go up? Peoplenothing but people, and lots of them. History will repeat itself in the Southwest - only it will not take so long. The Southwest is growing very fast; much faster than any other section of the United States. The land in the Southwest is just as good as Illino's, Ioura or Nebraska land. But there is more land than there are people. that's the only reason it's so cheep. How long do you think it will take the Southwest to get as many people to the farm acre as Illinois or Iowa have? Just about five years - ten at the very outside. When that time comes you will have to pay just as much for land in the Southwest as you would pay in Illinois or Iowa.

Why not buy your farm in the Southwest now - when you can get it cheap - cheap enough for you to get a big one? A few years hence you will be looked upon just as the man who owns 620 acres in Illinois is looked upon to-day - as a substantial, well-to-do. leading member of your community.
